At Pet Doctors, we're well known for our standard of care. In last year's staff survey, many of our team commented about the pride we took in our high standards of care. We're privileged to work with a great group of like-minded, enthusiastic and highly skilled people so here's an opportunity for a motivated person to join us as our next small animal veterinarian.

We're looking for motivated, proactive veterinarians to join teams across Auckland in both Pet Doctors clinics as well as Pet Doctors at Animates clinics. The positions will involve some time sole charge, working with our wonderful team of veterinary nurses.

Our commitment is not only to growth in size but also the growth of leading edge treatment and care, and we have a policy of supporting continuing education within the group.

At Pet Doctors we are the people who care about the wellness of pets, promising to provide what pets need to "live young to a very old age" and to keep pet parents involved every step of the way. The Pet Doctors Group currently has 24 clinics situated in Auckland, Hamilton, Palmerston North, Wellington and Christchurch. With our veterinarians and veterinary nurses, you will benefit from the wealth of knowledge and experience!

In this position, you'll get to utilise all your normal veterinary skills, with a particularly strong focus on wellness and excellent client communication. You'll be expected to:

- Maintain our high standards of care
- Consistently deliver excellent customer service
- Maintain strong relationships with all Pet Doctors and Animates teams
- Be flexible with working hours – available for regular weekends and public holidays

You'll be supported by our wider Pet Doctors team; helping you focus on delivering our excellent standards of care and customer service.
